LABOR SUNDAY MESSAGE 1934

(Issued by the Executive Committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, through its Department of the Church and Social Service.)

American business and industry stand at the judgment seat. An administration pledged to the welfare of the forgotten masses has announced its purpose to bring about such economic adjustments as will result in work and a living wage for all, under conditions in the establishment of which the worker has a voice through representatives of his own choosing; to promote constructive co-operation instead of disastrous competition in business; to secure a more just distribution of the wealth of the country in order that our vast resources may answer the human needs hitherto unmet even in years of prosperity; to afford relief to the sorely beset farm population of the country; to accomplish the release of children from premature toil and their return to school and to an adequate preparation for the responsibilities of life; to effect economic planning in the place of the adventurous but socially disastrous individualism of the past.

The Test Of Leadership

The measures proposed are of human origin and therefore fallible. But the purposes sought are divine in their character, if, as we steadfastly believe, the heart of Jesus Christ is a revelation of the divine. He came whether men were cold or hungry, or sick. He felt the woes of those in bondage of any sort, and longed for their freedom. Many goals sought by the present leaders of American affairs are indisputably in harmony with the purpose and spirit of Jesus. Whether these goals will be attained will depend upon the wisdom of separate measures adopted, upon the character of the economic system itself, and certainly upon the spirit of those in control of our economic life. If they can replace lust for personal power and profit by devotion to production and distribution for the common good; if they can look beyond the interests of their own class to the good of all the people; if they can rise to the realization that isolation is folly and that there cannot be a prosperous America in an impoverished world; if they can achieve a consciousness of the stewardship of their talents and their property, history will vindicate them as it writes the story of their emancipating leadership in a day of great crisis.

Labor is also on trial. While the difficulties of organization at a time of vast unemployment are very great and the opposition serious, labor has an opportunity to gather the working men of America into a national federation of mutual loyalty and service, and to promote those compacts which will stabilize industry and secure to labor the benefits of a generously rewarded efficient toil, while protecting the just interests of industry and the public. The verdict upon labor leadership is now being written. Will it record the operation of an inflexible purpose to include all toilers of every race and industry, whether skilled or unskilled, in the membership and service of their organizations? And will it reveal that the underprivileged and dispossessed, if adequately supported in their right to organize by government, industry and the public, can claim and win their human rights and privileges without the hatred and bitterness of class war?

The general public is at the bar of judgment. The measures now being tried and any others which give any promise of a cure of our social sickness, demand an integrity, a spirit of fair play, a capacity for long views, a willingness to surrender personal privilege and to share, such as have seldom been sought at the hands of any population in peace time. The inauguration of a New Era largely awaits the appearance of enough new people with new social outlooks and attitudes. Codes alone cannot give us a better society. There must be consecrations, too.

The church also is on trial. How can it urge co-operation in economic life, and at the same time be unwilling to move forward in effective co-operation among denominations? Can it call forth devotion to the public welfare and create social leadership of extraordinary courage, unless its ministers show equal devotion and courage in social interpretation and action? Can the church foster social idealism and inspire resolute action to break the power of entrenched selfishness, if large sections of it deny or are indifferent to the social implications of the gospel?

The Demands Of Religion

Were a prophet of Israel to arise among us he would again take up the cry of yesterday: "Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; learn to do well; seek judgment; relieve the oppressed; judge the fatherless; plead for the widow." And should Jesus stand once more in our midst, we would hear His voice saying, "I was an hungry and ye fed me, naked and ye clothed me, thirsty and ye gave me drink. Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, ye did it unto me." The best way to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, give drink to thirsty bodies and souls, is to make it possible for them to provide for themselves. Such provision waits not upon technical skill only, but upon the birth in our hearts of the spirit of Him who saw every man as God's child. A truly Christian concern for people calls for the careful scrutiny of reform measures. We want no slight healing of the hurt of our people, no crying, "Peace, peace, when there is no peace." There are grave questions which must be answered. Can the removal of land from production be the Christian answer to cries of hunger around the world? Can an arbitrary inflation of money such as has been proposed in some quarters be the straight road to justice between debtors and creditors? Can a system built about profits yield an adequate development of personality? Can liquor sold for private profit and taxed for public revenue enrich a people? Can huge military and naval expenditures be looked on by any sane man as a contribution to world peace?

As churches we cannot give the final word upon economic schemes, but in the name of Christ we must pass judgment upon the results of every social economy. We must inquire as to the actual number of unemployed, the degree to which the organization of labor and of consumers has advanced in comparison with the organization of employers, and the net gain in the redistribution of income and purchasing power as reflected by more rapid advance in wages and consumer income than in the cost of living. And we must insist that economic experiment shall proceed until it evolves a social order in which men and women everywhere shall have a real opportunity for the good life.

Once again we announce our purpose as churches and religious organizations to help recreate men and women in the spirit of Christ so that there shall be in America an increasing body of citizens whose master passion shall be the building of the Kingdom of God.

Garden Club

I know that everyone is anxious to learn how much we cleared at the Flower Show. As far as we know, all bills are in, and we will have a balance of $81.50 to put aside for future use. It is marvelous what a feeling of stability a bit of money gives one, isn't it? Money can do with a lot of things. Looked at superficially, it would seem as though it could buy about everything, at least that is what we people in America were in danger of thinking before the depression. Now we know that the really worthwhile things are not for sale.

Someone, I cannot recall who, has said, that the field or garden belongs most to that man who is best able to appreciate it. And so it is with all things. That sunset we glanced at absently last night and then forgot, was not ours, it belonged to the blessed few who in silence watched until the last trace of rose and gold faded from the sky. That flower in your garden that you passed by so carelessly a few hours ago, did not bloom for you, but for the stranger leaning across the fence, whose soul was stirred at the sight of it.

The world belongs to the man and woman whose eyes are really open, who can see a bit of Heaven in even a roadside thicket. The curve of velvet petal, the flash of flame from a bird's throat, the silken loveliness of silent wings, the majesty of towering trees and the lacelike fairy charm of the mosses beneath our feet. These are all riches untold to those who know how to see. Who could be bored or alone when the whole world is beckoning, when life, resplendent life, enfolds one on every hand. Nothing in nature is dull or uninteresting, the dullness lies in the blindness of our own eyes. We want to see, and that is what the Garden Club is for, to help us to see better, to open our eyes to the hundred beauties of the everyday world around us, to add richness and dignity to our lives.

We are glad indeed that the Flower Show was such a success financially, but we must never lose sight of those richer gains in which money has no place. It is fine to be able to plan ahead the splendid things we have dreamed of doing, but the real worth of the Club to you and me will always be the daily widening vision that close contact with nature in its bigger phases always brings.

BLANCHE CORSER.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

On Friday night Aug. 31st. 35 friends and relatives gave Mr. and Mrs. William B. Burrows of West Northfield a pleasant surprise in honor of their Silver Wedding.

Games were played by some while others had a few hands of cards. Refreshments were served and old friends had a chance to once again talk over their younger days and better times.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrows received many useful gifts among which were money in silver and a new Silver Dollar for the occasion. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all who came.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrows spoke of the year they were married and how they drove a horse and buggy to Northfield. There were but a few state roads and automobiles in those days.

THE BASEBALL BANQUET

Eighty-five Baseball enthusiasts young and old sat down Tuesday night to an old "Fanning Bee" at the Maples. It was without a doubt one of the finest banquets ever presented in honor of a Baseball team in Northfield. Lawrence Lazelle was Master of Ceremonies and while he thought he was running the show the boys put a fast ball past him when they presented him an arm chair in behalf of the Baseball Fans in Northfield in recognition of his untiring efforts on behalf of the team.

The presentation was made by Philip Porter who called attention to the fact that Mr. Lazelle was celebrating his birthday and his wedding anniversary. After recovering from the shock Lawrence went to bat with a speech expressing his surprise and gratefulness to the Fans.

The men gathered at 7:00 o'clock when a picture was taken by Lewis R. Brown, photographer of Northfield. Then the assault on the chicken dinner commenced and it is no secret that men who love outdoor games know what to do when put down before a chicken dinner.

The principal speaker was Dr. A. J. Brown who is well known to the fans as the young man with the gray hair, gray suit and straw hat who never misses a game. He tried to make the assemblage believe he was over 70 but if he is, Old Father Time has dealt kindly with him indeed.

He spoke for good clean sport and in defence of the younger generation. His talk was timely and well received.

After the Invocation by Dr. Elliott W. Brown, Henry Johnson, Chairman of the Banquet Committee called on Lawrence Lazelle to conduct the affair. Mr. Lazelle called on Dr. Allen H. Wright who spoke briefly on the national game in Northfield. Letters of regret were read from Carl Nichols, Coach of Greenfield High School, Arthur Phillips of New York and Raymond Clapp of Waltham.

The toastmaster then called the roll of Managers and many responded with a short speech. Some controversy broke out here when Rollin Shearer made the bald statement that his team was the best playing team as well as the best looking team. Dean Williams arose and said that while the Shearer statement might have been true when they played in years gone by they certainly had slipped since.

Among the Managers responding were: Frank Britton, John Callaghan, Tom Parker, Rollin Shearer, Dean Williams, Clayton Glazier, Henry Johnson spoke for this year's team. Tom Parker brought greetings from "Big John" Tognier.

"Dick" Miller whom this writer has often heard referred to as "the sweetest player Northfield ever turned out" drove 400 miles to be with the old gang and was royally welcomed.

Leon Beeler, Editor of the Herald was introduced as a new citizen interested in the team and spoke briefly. Sheriff Fred Doane was then called upon to say a few words and he told of his pleasure in getting back to the old town. John Callaghan tried to ring C. C. Stearns into the managerial picture but Charles in his usual reticent manner refused the nomination. Bob Shearer spoke for the 1934 team.

The committee is to be congratulated upon the success of the affair. George Kidder made the presentation of the chair to President Lazelle possible at a decreased expense and H. H. Crozier furnished the table decorations. Many old pictures of former teams were displayed and much interest was shown in them.

The American Fireworks company of Boston will furnish the display, and it will exceed anything seen at previous Greenfield night shows. A double vaudeville bill will be seen each day and evening with a 90-foot dive by Miss "Bubbles" Gordon, star performer of the Gordon water show. Miss Gordon will also make a dive into the tank in a suit of flames. The tank into which she will leap will have only four feet of water to break her fall. Other vaudeville numbers will include the Three Stones, comedy acrobats; White Brothers, clowns; Ernie and Naida Perez, aerialists; St. Onge, trio, perch artists; Dixon and Pal, comedian and trained seal.

Greenfield fair, like previous ones, will have a banner exhibition of pure bred cattle, sheep and poultry. Two exhibition halls will be filled with the products of home and garden, and the Boy Scout council of Franklin and Hampshire counties will give demonstrations at Mohawk village near the main entrance gate, where they have erected a log cabin to serve as permanent headquarters during the fair. They will also exhibit all kinds of leathercraft and other Scout novelties. The demonstrations will be in signaling and other Scout requirements. There will be six horse races on the two days and a grand parade of 4-H clubs and health clubs of the county on the second day. This is the 85th continuous fair held by the society, its first taking place in 1849.

GOLF GAME

A large gallery which gathered here last Friday saw Gene Mosher of Toy Town Tavern Winchendon Mass., and Al Raymond of the Northfield defeat Mac Bennett and Ted Sigda of the Greenfield Country Club, one up in the eighteen hole exhibition match which was held to-day on the beautiful and sportsy course surrounding the Northfield. The new No. 3 tee was officially opened to-day and everyone agreed that "it" added greatly to the length and sportiness of the 3rd hole.

The match was an exciting one throughout, neither team being more than two up at any time during the game. Mosher and Raymond started out being two down on the first two holes, but came back by playing some excellent golf, Raymond getting par on the difficult 5th, and Mosher getting an eagle 2 on the 6th hole to even the match. Mac Bennett made a perfect 265 yard drive to the 17th green surrounded by trees and traps.

From here on it was a tight game, neither team being able to score on the other, but on the eighteenth green, Al Raymond of the home club, sank a 20 foot putt that won the match for the "Real New England Inn" pros.

The final individual score for each player was:—Sennett 71; Sigda 74; Mosher 70; Raymond 78. "Real New England Inn" pros Best Ball score was 67 compared with their opponents 69.

EDITORIAL

"Man proposes—God disposes," says the old proverb. It proves a fact that has the Department of Agriculture and high Government officials giddy and dismayed. Main Administration program for the farmer has been crop and acreage reduction. Working on the theory that unless drastic action were taken, the American market would be glutted with agricultural surpluses for many years to come, thus keeping prices at bankrupt levels, steps were taken to kill pigs, plow under wheat and cotton, and otherwise attempt to adjust demand and supply. The government paid out checks totaling millions to farmers in order to recompense them for crops thus destroyed.

Everything went along well—until the power of God appeared, in the form of the worst drought in generations. The wheat and cotton crops of whole states were literally burned to dust—cattle died of thirst and starvation—high winds whirled away seed and topsoil, making a desert of what had been the finest and richest farm land in the country.

Outside of the afflicted areas, the American people had little idea of what the result of this would be. They read the headlines, felt pity for the farmers whose year's income had vanished, agreed that the Government should administer relief. What they did not realize was that the drought, following upon the man-made campaign to destroy produce, had turned the crop surplus into a crop deficit. And that means but one thing: Soaring food prices to the consumer. Private crop experts say that it will take five or six years to make up for the crops we have lost. Every one of these experts is of the belief that during the coming winter food prices will be higher than for many years past—and that, coming at a time when the national income is still heavily depressed and millions of families are earning just enough to get by on, contains the fruits of potential tragedy.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace and others have said that all the power of government will be used to prevent profiteering, that the consumer will be protected. But no law exists which can keep farmers from hanging onto what crops they have left in the hope of higher prices—no power has yet been called into play that can prevent speculation all along the line, from the farm to the grocery store.

Washington is worried and uncertain—and in the meantime the Government is in the odd position of forcing crop reduction on one hand, while administering relief to crop sufferers on the other!

People's Forum

Dear Mr. Editor:
I was much interested in your calendar of events in Northfield for one week in July.

I trust you will inaugurate such a weekly calendar of events for this autumn and winter. It would prevent much overlapping of interest. I for one, would co-operate with you in this venture to co-ordinate our various interests in Northfield.

Yours sincerely,
MARY ANDREWS CONNER.

MANY ATTEND
"LINCOLN'S PORTRAYAL"
AT THE CHATEAU

Last Saturday evening, Dr. Lincoln Carwell gave his impersonation of the life of Abraham Lincoln, before a large gathering at The Chateau.

Dr. Carwell not only possesses an undisputed physical resemblance to the Great Emancipator, but also portrayed with splendid effect, all the emotions characteristic of Lincoln. He makes "Honest Abe" very real and very human and thereby transforms our ideal of Lincoln into a "Personality."

His interpretation of the scenes and events of the Martyred President was very realistic; and from beginning to end, Dr. Carwell held the closest interest of the many who were there to see and hear him.

"A Woman must have had a hand in styling the new FORD V-8"

• A handy compartment for gloves and purse. • A steering ratio that makes parking decidedly easy. • Plenty of body, head, and leg room in the rear seat.

"Watch the Fords Go By"

THE fact is, many women did. For this new Ford car was definitely planned to meet the needs of women as well as men.

That's why you'll find a special compartment for your purse in the dashboard and sun-visors for your eyes. That's why interior fittings have been so tastefully designed. Why a finer grade of upholstery has been used. Why brakes act on the slightest touch of your toe. Why the steering ratio is 15-to-1 in order to make this car easier for a woman to handle.

And remember, the Ford V-8 has all the safety features modern engineering skill can devise—a V-8 Engine, Torque-tube Drive, All Steel Body, Welded Steel Spoke Wheels, Safety Glass and many others.

Remember, too, that the Ford V-8 is the most economical car to operate Ford has ever built. Not only that—Ford V-8 delivered prices are decidedly low.

CHILDREN EXHIBIT

Wednesday afternoon and evening were the closing events of the past years contest of the Busy Helpers Circle and the Loyal Workers Circle of the King's Daughters and Sons of Northfield which had been postponed from June 20th. Miss Nichols has been their leader for 2 years and was the organizer of the Sons and Daughters of Northfield. Their exhibit and sale was a great success. Dresses, fancy work, pressed flowers, vases and flowers. They had made lovely cakes, bread and many other things which showed patience and fine work. It was hard for the judges in some instances to tell just how many points should be given as these points were given in the contest for doing certain specified duties. Additional points were given for work shown at the exhibition. 1st prize of $2.00 and 2nd prize of $1.00 to the members of each circle winning the largest and next largest number of points. And a prize of $1.00 to the circle having the largest number of points per member. Busy Helpers Circle prize was captured by Julia Ross and the second prize was won by Lillian Daws. The first prize of the Loyal Workers was won by James Mattern and the second prize by Frank Tie and the Circle Prize by the Busy Helpers. They received $3.50 from their sale.

The judges for the Busy Helpers were:—Mrs. Mattern, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Lazelle.

For the Loyal Workers:—Mr. and Mrs. Carne.

Miss Nichols should have much credit for all the work, patience and time she has spent with these young people these past three years, and the young people have learned many lessons they will never forget.

THE COMMONPLACE

"A commonplace life," we say, and we sigh; But why should we sigh as we say? The commonplace sun in a commonplace sky Makes up the commonplace day. The moon and the stars are commonplace things, And the flowers that bloom, and the bird that sings. But dark were the world, and sad our lot If the flowers failed, and the sun shone not; And God, who studies each separate soul, Out of commonplace lives makes His beautiful whole. —Susan Coolidge (Contributed)

INTERESTING DAYS

The Rt. Rev. Henry Codman Potter, late Protestant Episcopal Bishop, was born at Schenectady, N. Y., on Sept. 20, 1836 (some say 1835.) He was instrumental in the building of the beautiful Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City.

Elizabeth of Poland, Queen of Hungary and Transylvania, whom Sultan Solymán of Turkey helped drive the Austrians out of Transylvania, died Sept. 21 (or 20, according to Chambers) in 1558.

Abdul Hamid II of Turkey, known as "Abdul the Damned," because of his despotic rule and broken promises as to reforms, was born Sept. 22, 1842, and was the 34th Sultan.

The Anglo-Saxon historian Sharon Turner was born in 1768 (Sept. 23 or 24, according to different biographers) in London. He also wrote essays and poetry. Gen. Henry Warren Slocum, who commanded the left wing of Sherman's army in the famous march from Atlanta to the sea, was born in Delhi, N. Y., on Sept. 24, 1827.

Two noted classical philologists were born Sept. 25, Christopher Gottlieb Heyne (or Christian Gottlieb) in 1729, at Chemnitz, Upper Saxony, and in 1793 Johann Gottfried Stallbaum at Zaasch, Prussian Saxony. Johann Kaspar Lavater, poet much discussed and praised by Goethe, was wounded Sept. 26, 1799, at Zurich, dying in consequence the following Jan. 2.

CHILI CON CARNE

Here is a truly California rule for a popular Spanish dish. Cut 2 lbs. meat (from the round or neck) into small chunks. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons flour and a little salt. Heat 1-4 cup chopped suet in a kettle, brown the meat with a small clove of garlic cut fine, stirring well. Add 2 tablespoons chili powder, and 2 quarts cold water and simmer till meat is tender (2 or 3 hours). Just before serving, add pink Mexican beans (frijoles) which have been boiled until tender.

MOTHER'S CRULLERS

Beat together 2 eggs and 1-2 cups sugar. Add 1 cup milk and butter the size of an egg. Sift together 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 of soda, a little salt and flour enough to make a very soft dough and mix with the egg and milk mixture. Roll the dough in small pieces the size of your finger and 8 inches long, double it and twist together, then fry in boiling fat. Lay on brown paper to drain.

BEEF RELISH

Combine 1 qt. each of chopped cabbage and chopped cooked beets with 1 cup grated horseradish. Scald 2 cups vinegar, dissolve in this 1 cup sugar and a little salt, and add to chopped vegetables, and cook till they show clear. Seal up in clean, hot jars, and keep to serve with mutton or other mild flavored meats.

TWO TAPIOCAS

Little Sister had two good tapioca pudding rules, one for plain and one for apple tapioca. PLAIN TAPIOCA—Use 6 teaspoons soaked tapioca to 1 quart milk and 2 eggs, with seasoning to taste. APPLE TAPIOCA—Line the pudding dish with sliced apples, and pour in 1 quart water with 1 teaspoon tapioca soaked, and a little sugar.

CANADA BREAD

Dissolve a dry yeast cake in 1-4 cup luke warm water 10 minutes. Put 1 teaspoon salt into your mixing pan and add 4 cups luke warm water and flour enough to make the mixture the stiffness of good pancake batter. Add the yeast water and beat 2 or 3 minutes. Set to rise over night in a warm place. It should double bulk in the morning. Add enough flour so the dough does not stick to hands or moulding board, mix thoroughly, flour board and knead 2 or 3 minutes. Raise again to 2-1-2 times its bulk, then make into loaves, handling the dough lightly, put in pans, and cover till it rises to 2-1-2 times its bulk again. Have your oven of moderate heat, and bake till a nice even brown and the loaf feels light when taken from the pan. The kind of flour used makes a difference in the kneading, a soft wheat flour needing much less handling than the hard wheat, to make a smooth, elastic dough.

HOME PROVERBS

MEXICAN—"Even the best mother can never know all one's secrets."

CHINESE—"Ambition is like hunting for fleas."

JAPANESE—"Even Fuji (the sacred mountain) is without beauty to one who is cold and hungry."

RUSSIAN—"What is the good of honour if there is nothing to eat?"

One can have a high standard of living; and still not buy things he doesn't want.

Why put more in your head if you have plenty there for all possible needs?

Without soaring hopes and no ambition one can get through life quite easily.

Prisons were dreadful places in olden days; and criminals were very careful to keep out of them.

Boys have too little time for choice of what vocation they will follow. They have to seize the nearest job.

South Vernon

Mrs. H. V. Martineau had the misfortune to fall on the steps at her home in West Northfield and break her left wrist in two places last Friday night.

The Girls 4-H Lotus Club with their leader, Mrs. R. E. Bruce held a successful food sale on the Vernon Home lawn last Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scherlin with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Scherlin attended the Rutland, Vt. fair, Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor and two daughters, Miss Janet and Virginia of Caldwell, N. J., attended last Sunday morning's services at the South Vernon Church. They returned home Monday after a short vacation.

Mr. Zuluzny and family of New York City spent a month's vacation on the farm of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zuluzny and family. They returned home, Monday.

Mrs. M. H. Brown had the pleasure of attending an entertainment and listening to the impersonation of Abraham Lincoln given by Dr. Lincoln Caswell at the Chateau in East Northfield, Saturday night. It was an excellent piece of acting.

Anyone who has never seen the Room of Mirrors in the Chateau would certainly enjoy the sight, for it would likely be a scene they would never forget. It is certainly worth the price of admission. The beautiful view that can be seen from the towers of the surrounding country with the distant view of the many mountain ranges the beautiful windmills of the Connecticut River and especially at night when the electric lights from the many farm homes scattered up and down the valley for miles around sparkling like so many diamonds making a magnificent view.

A crowd of about 100 of the townspeople gathered at Houghton's Grove on Houghton Hill Saturday for a basket picnic held by the Union Church at Vernon, Vt., and the South Vernon Church Sunday School. The usual sports were enjoyed ending up with a baseball game in the afternoon.

This is a fine place for a picnic and it is the beautiful summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Major C. Houghton of Brattleboro, Vt. This was the former home of Mr. Houghton's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Houghton, which some of the older residents may remember. Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Houghton have made extensive repairs at the old home remodeling the inside of the house, building a two car garage, painting the buildings and beautifying the grounds. Mrs. Houghton's large and beautiful flower gardens with flowers of many kinds and colors is a place of beauty and a sight worth seeing. People come for miles around to see these beautiful flower gardens.

Another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jay A. Johnson have a beautiful display of many kinds and colors of flowers. This beautiful garden lies beside the road where everyone can see and feast their eyes on this place of beauty. Mr. and Mrs. Houghton's flower gardens are hidden behind the trees from the main road so one cannot see very much of them until they get to the grounds. Mrs. Johnson's beautiful flower gardens is where the public can see and enjoy the pretty sight as they pass by.

The services at the South Vernon Church next Sunday and during the week are as follows:—All on Standard Time.

9:30 A.M. Church School.

10:45 A.M. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. Geo. A. Gray.

7:00 P.M. Song Service, followed by preaching.

7:30 P.M. Thursday, Sept. 13, Mid-week Service at the Vernon Home.

Last Sunday morning a good sized congregation came to welcome the pastor and family's return. After a month's vacation and listening to a fine sermon preached by him both morning and evening. A beautiful duet was sung by E. W. Dunklee and Mrs. Ralph Gibson at the morning service. During his attendance at the campmeetings at Palmer, Mass., and Alton Bay, N. H. Mr. Gray preached 28 sermons and attended 40 services. Rev. and Mrs. Gray went away for a change and now they have come home for a rest.

We are all very glad to welcome our beloved pastor and family's safe return and family's return.

The Girls 4-H Humming Bird Club met at the home of Mrs. R. E. Bruce Saturday afternoon. A business meeting was held, followed by the girls working on desk sets.

Rev. Geo. A. Gray gave the Right Hand of Fellowship to Mrs. Jennie May (Foss) Leavitt, last Sunday morning at the Communion Service. We are all very glad to have the honor of receiving Mrs. Leavitt as a member of the South Vernon Church.

Miss Margaret Johnson is teaching school in Guilford, Vt.

Miss Elizabeth Stearns of Windsor, Vt., has returned to teach the South School and is boarding at Mrs. Jay A. Johnson's. While Miss Ruth Seward of Fairhaven, Vt., has returned to teach the Pond School and is boarding with Mrs. Forrest Streeter.

The West School on the West Road in Vernon has been reopened with 19 scholars thus relieving the congested condition in the other schools. There are 151 children of school age. Before this other school was re-opened the other schools were over-crowded.

Mrs. Rowan of Thompsonville, Conn., is a guest of her son, Thomas Rowan at the Wilson Cottage in West Northfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shine and daughter of Royalston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shine of Vernon

Vt., and Mr. and Mrs. William Shine and son Henry of Millers Falls, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudson and niece Miss Pearl Hudson of Brattleboro, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Harris and family spent Monday, Labor Day at Lake Sunapee, N. H.

About 35 of the townspeople gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Burrows in West Northfield, Mass., to assist them in celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary last Friday night.

The evening was spent socially and in playing games.

They received many useful and valuable gifts. Among them were dishes, silverware, pictures, a large crocheted rug and money.

Mr. Burrows responded in a pleasing manner.

Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served.

Out of town guests present were their brothers and their families.

The three Social Committees elected to serve for the month of October are Mrs. Edna Edson, Chairman; Robert Bruce and Miss Joyce Pinney. After the business meeting games were played.

THE BACKYARD GARDENER

I visited a farm home day before yesterday that had one of the nicest lawns coming along that I've seen for some time. In spite of several trees growing around it, the owner of this place has been able to develop a good turf, by using some of the grasses that don't mind shade. Fine leaved fescue and roughstalk meadow grass are two of the grasses he had in this shady part. That part of the lawn has been growing now for two years.

For some reason or other, the bank which sloped down to the street had never been seeded to grass. A few weeks ago it was nothing but a tangle of brush, hiding the view of the house and the fine lawn in front. So, a couple of weeks ago, the owner took a day off and grubbed out the bank and leveled it off for seeding. He knew that this is the best time of the year to start a new seeding of grass, and he was getting his started plenty early, so the young grass plants will be well established this fall and will be able to go through the winter in good condition.

The bank wasn't shaded by the trees. In fact, it was a south slope and so it got more than its share of sunshine, so the owner didn't use any of the shade grasses. He used a mixture of bent grass and Kentucky bluegrass for this seeding. Just to make sure that he got the seed evenly distributed he divided it into four parts and scattered it by walking first east and west, then north and south, and then on the two diagonals. Said he got the idea from one of the State College men on the radio. All of which tends to prove that you never can tell when you're going to pick up a new idea.

Some of you may have a lawn that's looking pretty tough and you think "you'd like to tear it up this fall and start over right from the beginning. You know, I'd be a little slow about doing that. If there's any good grass in the lawn at all, by that I mean bluegrass or some other fine leaved grass, you'll find it easier to re-build the lawn with a little seed and fertilizer than it is to build a new one. Write to the State College at Amherst for the lawn bulletin, No. 85, and see if it doesn't tell you the same thing.

Staying single is hardly ever planned. It just happens.

Our science has far outstripped our will to use it for the common good.

Kentucky is Iniquitous for Land of Tomorrow.

Eczema

Eczema is an inflammation of the skin usually localized at onset. It may appear on any portion of the skin, remain limited to the portion attacked, or extend slowly or rapidly. The eruption may consist of redness of the skin, papules, small blisters, and later scales and crusts may appear. It may be the dry or moist type and may change as the disease progresses.

Itching is a marked symptom in any type and very often a burning or the sensation of heat is present. Constitutional symptoms are absent excepting in the generalized type. Eczema is not inherited, it is a non-contagious, and except in prolonged generalized cases does not affect the general health. However, any internal condition which lowers the vitality of the individual naturally decreases the resisting power of the skin.

Self-medication for any persistent skin ailment may lead to serious trouble. It is often hard even for the skin specialist to remedy certain ailments and one should be exceedingly careful in the use of ointments, lotions, etc., for the relief of skin diseases. Your physician is aware of the danger and will advise you correctly.

KILL THIS PEST

Charles H. Baldwin, Commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets, is urging owners of orchards to destroy egg masses of the eastern tent caterpillar, responsible for great damage to trees in New York and New England. Commissioner Baldwin pointed out that the examination of neglected wild cherry or apple trees will reveal large numbers of these dark brown, collarlike masses which have a shiny, gumlike appearance and often encircle small twigs.

"The nests or tents of caterpillars formed in the forks or crotches of wild cherry trees and neglected, unsprayed apple, peach and plum trees have passed through the pupal stage," he explained, "and the adult moths have emerged and laid their eggs in preparation for a destructive invasion next spring.

"These eggs will hatch early next spring just about the time the leaves begin to unfold. The young caterpillars seem to be rather gregarious, in that they gather in the forks of the limbs and oftentimes a colony is made up of the caterpillars which have been hatched from several egg masses. They then proceed to construct their webs from which they issue to feed on the newly forming leaves.

"Wherever they crawl they spin a thread of silk, and in the course of a few days there are well defined, silken pathways from the nests to the feeding places on the trees. The nests increase in size as the caterpillars grow. After about a month of very destructive feeding the caterpillars reach full size, scatter some distance from the nests, spin cocoons—usually on the tree trunks or on some nearby object—in which they change to the pupal stage and emerge as moths. The female moths deposit their eggs for the next season's generation.

"Fruit trees infested with nests of tent caterpillars are a sign of neglect to the traveler passing over our highways. The natural food plants of these caterpillars seem to be wild and choke cherries. They are useless trees and render very little shade. It should be the part of good management to have these species cut and destroyed. Old, neglected apple orchards should be cut down, as they are sources of danger of infestation to other orchards in better condition in the neighborhood.

"The egg masses should be collected and destroyed during the winter months. Several years ago a campaign was inaugurated in the schools of the state for the destruction of the tent caterpillar. Prizes were awarded in some cases, and thousands of egg masses were collected and destroyed. Orchardists who follow spray schedules in accordance with directions obtainable in the Department of Agriculture and Markets have little to fear from this pest."

MASSACHUSETTS HOMEMAKERS DEMAND CANNING BULLETIN

With fruits and vegetables on the market in large quantities and at low prices, Massachusetts' housewives are turning to thoughts of canning. At any rate, demands at the Massachusetts State College for the canning bulletin have increased several-fold within the last two or three weeks. This publication, entitled, "Food Preservation Recipes," Leaflet 142 includes directions for canning all types of fruit and vegetables, making jelly, jam, pickles and preserves.

Professors W. R. Cole and W. W. Chenoweth, of the Department of Horticultural Manufactures of the Massachusetts State College are the authors of the leaflet, and their directions have been tested in thousands of Massachusetts kitchens. "Food Preservation Recipes" will be sent free of charge to anyone requesting it. Address the Extension Service, Massachusetts State College, Amherst, Mass.

Phillips Lord, the Seth Parker of radio is fulfilling a boyhood ambition to sail around the world.

LABOR DAY GAMES

Northfield wound up the 1934 Baseball Season Labor Day by winning one and losing one to Montague Rod and Reel. Bob Shearer returned to the mound and gave up three hits to win handily 5 to 1. This game took only an hour and a half so Umpire Porter called for another collection to insure a Double Header. The appeal went over the Top and the second game began.

Dick Parley started this game but his arm had not fully recovered and he gave way to Dick Sherwin who alternates a fast ball with a faster one. Montague decided that one game for Northfield was enough for one day and they proceeded to go around the bases. Northfield left their bats in g.
clothes in the Hotel Garage between games and fared not so well against the second pitcher. Result—Montague 7; Northfield 2.

"THE SOUTHERNERS"

Seth Parker while broadcasting from Savannah Ga. last year picked-up an aggregation of four colored boys who have shown exceptional ability as strummers and harmonizers. These boys have been broadcasting for quite some time daily over Station WGY Schenectady. They will make a personal appearance at the Vic-torla Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week Sept. 6-7-8 at both matinee and evening performance. The Southerners have earned the title of THE MILLS BROTHERS OF THE SOUTH, their work strongly resembling this noted outfit. On the screen two big feature pictures plus News and Mickey Mouse will be shown. Same small prices, no increase.

OVEN CANNING

Simple with an ELECTRIC RANGE

Oven canning in the electric range, as well as cooking and baking, requires no special knowledge.

Set the jars in a shallow pan containing a small amount of water and place them in the oven.

Adjust the automatic controls which eliminate watching, and go about your other household duties.

The fast, even heat and the heavily insulated oven cook the fruits or vegetables in their own juices.

Simplicity is the keynote of oven canning in the modern electric range.

RED RASPBERRY JAM
Red Raspberries Sugar

Wash, pick over berries. Weigh. Add an equal weight with paraffin.

Temperature, 250°F. Time, 1 hour.
